Today and Thursday—Overcast; intermittent rain. Thursday: light snow; little change in temperature. Edmonton temperatures—High Tuesday, 40; overnight low, 34; estimated high today, 38; estimated low tonight, 34; estimated high Thursday, 46. Thursday sunrise—5:20; Thursday sunset, 7:46.

ART OF HOUSEKEEPING by Flyers hockey team is depicted in these charming domestic scenes. Johnny Black, peppermint wingman, has been known to rub an opponent the wrong way. Here, he's rubbing wax the right way at the Black domicile, 11223 65 street.

CHAMPIONSHIP MOREY RIMSTAD is a rugged gent on ice. But in the Rimstad kitchen! Mrs. Rimstad says Money has an elusive style in the kitchen—"slippery" around dishwashing time. He is heavily backed by his domestic partner.

ELMER KRELLER is the "shadow" of the ice lanes but he's solid substance to pretty daughter Dawn Michelle, 17 months of age. Little Dawn Michelle hasn't been around very long but she's certain that daddy will win the Alton Cup.

IT'S HANDY ANDY in the kitchen as well as on the ice. Andy has been married only a few months but it looks as if Mrs. Glovachok rates just as high as a culinary coach as does Frank Currie in the hockey-playing department.

City Flood Conditions Controlled

Rampaging Waters Hit Many Districts Across Prairies

Approximately 100 families in the valley communities adjacent to Drumheller were forced to leave their homes at noon today when the Red Deer river went into rampaging flood. Householders were perched on roofs of their homes in some cases as the river waters rose more than six feet in a few hours.

Rampaging waters flooded many prairie districts today while city engineers' department in Edmonton reported gaining the upper hand on local flood conditions.

A total of about 500 basements were reported flooded here, but work of pumping them out is expected to be completed today.

Only flooding now remaining is in vicinity of 74 Ave. and 80 street, and between 109 and 111 streets on 76 avenue.

No further serious run-off is expected.

TWO BABIES DROWN

Deaths of two babies due to floods were reported from southern Alberta and Manitoba.

Dead are 20-month-old Wayne Edward Winchuk, Oyen, Alta., and David Rieck, one and one-half, North Kildonan, Manitoba.

Both fell into water-filled ditches and drowned.

A third child, Harvey Schumacher, nine and one-half-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Schumacher of Didsbury, has been reported missing since Monday.

Reports of ice-jams, flooded roads, washed out railways and destroyed bridges have come in from across the three prairie provinces.

Many towns are undergoing the worst floods in their histories.

30 ABANDON HOMES

Thirty persons in Wayne, near Drumheller, have been forced to leave their homes.

B.C. LAW BOSS GIVEN SPECIAL IN PINK "SLIPS"

VICTORIA, April 21.—(AP)—Attorney-General Gordon S. Winter had a "pink slip" today. It came in the form of a large envelope placed on his desk, grained broadly and pulled out a woman's dainty pink slip made of satin and embossed. It looked like a perfect fit.

Winter had just finished an explanation of amendments to the "pink slip" motor insurance law. Under the amendments must carry a "pink slip" paper variety, to show financial responsibility.

Second Tragedy Averted

SCHOOL SEEMS A WONDERFUL place again to Dennis and Bryan O'Donnell of 9619 50 avenue after their narrow escape from death by drowning in a South Side pond Monday. Joseph Wark, 9618, 54 avenue rescued the two children after they fell off a raft. Eight-year-old Dennis is on the left of the picture. Bryan is seven years of age. ## PLUNGES INTO ICY WATER

Oil Worker Saves Boys From Drowning in Pond

Lives of two city boys were saved by an Edmonton oil worker who plunged into six feet of icy water to make the rescue Monday evening.

Joseph Wark, 9618 54 avenue, heard cries of the two who had slipped from a raft into the pond behind 9649 59 avenue.

The rescued children were seven-year-old Bryan O'Donnell of 9619 50 avenue and his eight-year-old brother, Dennis.

Taken to the nearby home of Melvin Gordon, 9641 54 avenue, the boys were given warm baths and then driven home.

MOTHER WAR WIDOW
Mother of the children is a war widow. Back at school Wednesday the O'Donnell youngsters were feeling fine and apparently none the worse for their experience.

Deputy explained the mishap to an Edmonton Bulletin reporter.

"Bryan and I were on the raft with another boy. Everything went alright until this other boy moved to the edge of the raft and it upset."

"The third boy got out of the water all right but neither Bryan nor I could swim."

Bryan started to yell and Mr. Wark came running over and pulled us out.

"The water was sure cold. We are going to be a lot more careful from now on."

OTHER ADVENTURES
Mrs. O'Donnell said today that the children later confessed they had two other "adventures" Monday before falling into the pond.

They told me they had fallen earlier in a mud puddle and had nearly been run over by a bus on the way home from school, Mrs. O'Donnell said.

Auto Workers' Boss Shot From Ambush

From AP and BUP Dispatches

DETROIT, April 21.—The international executive board of the United Auto Workers (CIO) offered a $100,000 reward leading to the arrest and conviction of any person or persons responsible for the attempted murder of Walter P. Reuther. Earlier the city of Detroit offered $10,000 and a local union $1,000.

Reuther, 40, fiery boss of the UAW who was shot from ambush last night, was operating upon at Grace hospital today and physicians said he would not lose his right arm, shattered by a shotgun blast.

They said "his general condition is good."

Police Commissioner Harry S. Toy ordered the Canadian border between Detroit and Windsor sealed against any escape attempt by the driver of a red sedan.

He ordered a roundup of all known Communists in the city, all Reuther's "friends and enemies" and his neighbors in the quiet northwest area where he lives. All will be questioned.

Reuther, vigorous foe of Communism within the UAW, sat down while standing in the kitchen of his home eating a late snack prepared by his wife, Mrs. Reuther, 40, who was shot in the right arm, shattered by a shotgun blast.

His assailant fired a single charge through the window, then fled in a red sedan.

The charge hit Reuther in the right side, shattering his arm and inflicting serious wounds. Doctors said the fact that he was standing with his right side toward the window probably saved his life.

The attack, the second on Reuther's life within a decade, followed off one of his many attempts in Detroit's history. Police Commissioner Harry S. Toy ordered the Canadian border between Detroit and Windsor sealed against any escape attempt by the driver of a red sedan.

Woodward's Groceries, Lower Main Floor

EDSON CLINIC, one of the most modern on the prairies, is long-awaited realization of a dream for the builder, Dr. M. E. Tiffin, for 19 years doctor to the people of the thriving western community. Clinic is fine example of spirit of growth and advancement found throughout the town.

Edson Doctor Wins Praise For Establishing Clinic

By Harlo Jones

A small town doctor's dream has come true in Edson—largely because of the small town doctor himself.

Dr. M. E. Tiffin, who has served the medical needs of the people of Edson for 19 years, dreamed of a proper medical clinic in which he would be able to carry out his work.

Largely as a result of his own designs, which followed several months of research in Vancouver clinics where he was in contact with men who surveyed the entire west coast for ideas, the Edson clinic has now taken shape and soon will be in condition to operate.

Even a layman, aside from all medical knowledge, can appreciate the beauty of the set up, and is merely to follow Dr. Tiffin around the place to know and appreciate the gleam of enthusiasm which comes into his eyes when he opens a door, or flips the switch on a special light.

The place is an utilitarian's dream.

First of all, there is an entrance hall, it, to the casual looker, is at all an unbecoming except for the fact that it is rather large, and steps up lead in to the clinic instead of it having steps leading up to it. Then, one thinks of how easy it would be for a mother to wheel her baby's carriage into the hall and one begins to understand.

The business office, off the entrance hall, is entirely up to a hospital, or anything which approaches being a hospital. Here there are no gleaming, antiseptic white walls with hanging globe-lights flaring down.

Here, fluorescent lights glow softly down on cedar paneled walls, while in the corner, a nurse makes appointments and relay information across a small birch-and-chrome desk.

Under the design accepted by Dr. Tiffin, three doctors will practice in the clinic.

Each will have an office with adjoining examining rooms on each side. Thus, a doctor can examine one patient and while one that is preparing to leave, he can begin on another in his other office.

All are fully equipped, and in one there is provision for a fluoroscope, eliminating time-consuming trips to hospitals and waiting for eyes to become accustomed to darkened rooms.

In the special store room, cupboards reach from floor to ceiling while disappearing trays offer convenient places for nurses to rest equipment while opening and closing drawers. The drawers too have a secret, because they are designed so they can be pulled out to any length without tipping.

LABORATORY

In the miniature laboratory, a supply of "bottled" gas will provide heat for the tests which a doctor must perform, while absorbent acid and least resistant coverings, of a glistening jet black, protect the tops of tables.

Here too is a special shelf for expensive microscopic equipment, preventing the damage which would come through constant moving of such items.

And there is the room for minor operations.

Here, six prismatic ceiling lights provide illumination on any part of the operating table which might be desired, while one entire side of the room is glass brick for general illumination.

Every lighting fixture in the building was precisely designed for the room it is in, providing exposure-meter accuracy of light intensity at any given distance from a light source.

CALL SYSTEM

Throughout the building, in all rooms, there is a double call system, of "silent" gongs for doctors and lights for nurses.

Aside from the professional aspects of the building there is a lunch room with a completely equipped lunch bar, and facilities permitting members of the staff to get aside their cares for the moment.

Curious features of the building is, that contrary to all expected pains, there is not a spot of white paint in it. To combat the scarcity of

Park Work Will Begin In Summer

Ground Cleared For $30,000 Project Chairman Says

Actual construction work on Edson's $30,000 memorial park will begin this summer.

Chairman of the park committee Bill Switzer said today land is already cleared and leveling will begin as soon as snow has left the ground.

Final plans call for picnic grounds, two ball diamonds, 1500 seat bleachers, 40-yard cinder track, wading pool and play equipment for children, dressing rooms and concessions.

Immediate plans call for completion of ball diamonds, one set of bleachers and concessions this summer.

Members of the Memorial Park Committee include Bill Switzer, Bill Nigro, Lloyd Mahon, George Greff, P. W. Wells, D. M. Canton, Don Reagan, Chris Pattinson and Jack Pattinson.

Only Three Tories As Commons Sits

OTTAWA, April 21.—(CP)—The official Progress Conservative opposition found itself heavily outnumbered in Commons last night.

It mustered a strength of only three—Jack Charlton (PC—Brant), Gordon Graydon (PC—Peel) and Garfield Case (PC—Grey North)—against 50 Liberals, 15 CCF and seven Social Credit members.

The reason? The bulk of the remaining 66 party members were attending the annual dinner of the Progressive Conservative association at which the party leader, John Bracken, spoke.

OLDs, April 21.—(CP)—The home and the school are the two greatest contributors to child development.

Mayor A. D. Dunkley of Olds, said before the 17th annual convention of the Alberta Federation of Home and School Associations.

Addressing more than 200 delegates on the convention's opening day, Mayor Dunkley said the entire community was affected by cooperation between home and school and that good co-operation was needed during the present troubled times.

NICKEL SUBWAY FARE IS "OUT"

NEW YORK, April 21.—(AP)—The pride of New York—the nickel subway fare—was ordered doubled by Mayor William O'Dwyer last night.

O'Dwyer announced the boost to 10 cents will go into effect July 1. The charge on city-owned surface lines will be increased to seven cents.

The subway fare has been nickel since the first line went into operation in October, 1904. O'Dwyer bowed to the recommendation of the City Board of Transportation and spoke of mounting operational losses, as well as the need for increasing pay of transit workers.

Australia Trying Triple Population

Home, School Greatest Factors in Child Life

OLDs, April 21.—(CP)—The home and the school are the two greatest contributors to child development.

Mayor A. D. Dunkley of Olds, said before the 17th annual convention of the Alberta Federation of Home and School Associations.

Addressing more than 200 delegates on the convention's opening day, Mayor Dunkley said the entire community was affected by cooperation between home and school and that good co-operation was needed during the present troubled times.

Before we can expect peace in the world we must learn to live together in the home and the neighborhood because today all countries are neighbors," he said.

Mrs. M. W. Malson, convenor of organization and extension, reported that membership in the federation now totals 153 associations—an increase of 42 new associations during the past year.

Education Minister Ivan Casey asked the delegates to form concrete proposals for forwarding to his department. Directors of education should keep their sights ahead of the present program and lay plans for the future.

Mrs. F. C. Butterworth of Edmonton, representing the Alberta School Trustees' Association, urged the convention to give serious consideration to the large turnover in the teaching profession.

Mrs. Florence Burkholder of Calgary predicted that if the present trend continues, the next 50 years will see the breakdown of home life. "Bad homes tend to perpetuate themselves," she said. "The same habits and techniques are passed on." Children should not be sheltered from life's realities.

President Munroe MacLeod of Calgary predicted that great achievements could be accomplished by the home and school by first welcoming children into the world, into school and group life.

"We are concerned with peace as a state of mind," he said, "not as a matter of international politics. For unless we can establish peace, harmony and self-control in each individual we cannot hope for peace on the world scale."

The convention will continue today and Thursday.

SUPER RESTAURANT opened in Edson Monday can rival most modern in the west. Attractive color schemes, modern appointments and deluxe equipment combine to make "MacDonald's" a joy to the eye as well as to the appetite. With emphasis on service and decor, restaurant will endeavor to maintain a high standard of quality in its operation.

Edson Diners to Benefit As New Restaurant Opens

One of the most modern restaurants in Alberta opened in Edson Monday.

It is to be known simply as "MacDonald's." Located on the main street of the town, within a block and one-half of the Canadian National station, the building will proclaim its virtue to the town and to the world through the medium of a blazing blue neon sign, more than six feet in length.

It's proprietor, D. S. "Mac" MacDonald is not boasting when he says the $25,000 cafe rivals any to be found in any western Canadian city, regardless of size.

From its gleaming chrome-plated furniture and utensils to the state-of-the-art stripping on the wood-paneled walls, the establishment had promise for the future.

Its interior finish of pastel shades of green and peach above polished natural-wood grain paneling, is set off to perfection by contrasting drapes, leaving an impression of a peaceful, modern, yet often missing in modern eating places.

But there is one appointment missing.

"There will never be," vowed "Mac," "a juke box."

ALL MODERN Furniture throughout is the height of modernity. Cream-colored leather gloves against grained wood, while bright red piping on counter stools lends a flash of brilliance. Rights of the young generation are not forgotten either. Two cream-colored high chairs stand guard for them.

Seventeen seats line the "ss" shaped counter, facing modern restaurant fixtures in shining rows along the mirrored wall.

Tobies, chrome and cream with matching leather-covered chairs, account for another 40 seats, making a total capacity of 60. Not counting the high chairs.

But not only the "front" of the restaurant is modern. Behind the swinging doors to the kitchen, the Keynote of the restaurant's operation will be service, Mr. MacDonald declared.

TEA SPECIALS

Afternoon teas for the ladies of the town will be a specialty service, and is one of the reasons, said Mr. MacDonald, that he will attempt to maintain quietness by abolition of the automatic phonograph.

Waitresses will be "imported," he declared, in order to provide a more efficient staff which will be constantly supervised to maintain peak service.

"I'll smile when I hire them," he said, "and I'll smile when I fire them, too, if they are not up to the mark."

The restaurant will open with a staff of ten or twelve, he expected. Construction of the building was in the hands of A. Davidge and Sons, contractors.

Burglars Take Mean Advantage

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 21.—(AP)—Detective Mark Bain's feet are neither hot, flat, nor cold today, but they are mighty tender.

Two burglars tried to break into his home. Holding his pyjamas up with one hand and clutching his pistol in the other, the barefoot officer chased them several blocks full speed in the dark.

"Then they turned into a gravel alley," he explained to brother officers who found him hobbling home alone.

Ukrainians Protest Raid On School By Quebec Police

MONTREAL, April 21.—(CP)—The Association of United Ukrainian Canadians, in a letter yesterday to Premier Duplessis, protested last Friday's raid on the association's school at nearby Point St. Charles. Provincial police claimed it was a Communist school for children of Ukrainian descent.

"We object to you playing politics by making police raids," said the letter. "Our organization is an educational and cultural society and we have carried on this cultural work for over a generation."

Applause Greet Prime Minister

Now Holds Commonwealth Record as Government Leader

By George Kitchen

OTTAWA, April 21.—(CP)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King won praise from parliament yesterday for an historic achievement.

A great round of deaf-thumping greeted him as he entered the Commons on this the 7,620th day of his service in the prime ministerial office. He came to office Dec. 29, 1921.

NEW RECORD NOW

This was the day upon which he equaled the Commonwealth record established two centuries ago by Sir Robert Walpole. Sir Robert served the same number of days—7,620—from April 3, 1721, to Feb. 11, 1742.

Today he surpasses Sir Robert and hangs up a record of his own. Opposition party leaders, members of his own party and veteran members on both sides rose to pay Mr. King tribute. All wished him long life and good health.

"Then the 73-year-old prime minister, aglow with pride, expressed his 'warmest thanks.'"

He was happy that it had been his good fortune to establish an "unequalled record" which was to the credit of Canada. It was a record which made clear that to gain and retain power in a free country, to help shape its policies of government, it was "not necessary that the head of a political party or of an administration should be either a superman or a dictator."

MARKED OUTSIDE

The occasion was marked outside of the chamber as well. Three members of the parliamentary press gallery and one member of parliament pointed up Mr. King's achievement by hanging a piece of crepe over Walpole's picture in the parliamentary buildings.

Maximum Training For Reserves 30 Days

Authorized training periods for the Canadian Army Reserve for 1948-49 have been announced.

Army headquarters in Ottawa said today the training period for all reserve units has been set at a maximum of 30 days.

SCHOLARSHIP ANNOUNCED BY T. ASSN.

A $500 scholarship has been announced by the Alberta Tuberculosis Association.

The scholarship will go each year to the graduating medical student at the University of Alberta writing the best essay on tuberculosis.

Announcement was made by R. W. Roscoe, retiring president of the association.

One year's work at an Alberta tuberculosis hospital must be undertaken by the student in order to qualify for the award.

An additional 15 days may be authorized for training of officers, NCO's, tradesmen and specialists.

Unit training in camps and weekend exercises has been limited to 10 days.

Additional time is authorized for reserve force personnel to attend active force schools of instruction, training demonstrations, exercises and attendance at instructing courses.

COTC PERIODS

COTC members may train for 10 days at universities and an additional 10 days may be allotted to contingent officers with approval of general officers commanding the five army commands.

This is in addition to 16 weeks spent by all COTC cadets at active force schools during the summer.

Officers of Canadian cadet services are authorized to train for a period of not more than 30 days, and 10 days are authorized for annual camps and 30 days for full-time courses of instruction.

Parachute School Plan

A parachute school may be organized in Edmonton this summer.

Harvey and Dick, northland team have been approached by approximately 60 people—including 30 girls—regarding instruction.

If enrolment warrants the venture, the school will start in June and will last most of the summer.

Instruction in the theory of jumping will precede the actual "bail out."

Special instruction in parachute packing, first aid, and physical fitness may be included in the course.

Owen Harvey and Jack Dick, owners of the first parachute school in the RCAF with "Wop" Mac during the war.

Since that time they have provided instruction at a Forest Fire Control school at Prince Albert where jumpers were trained for the Saskatchewan government.

CCF Seeking Govt. Action

Enabling legislation to permit marketing of coarse grain by the wheat board should be passed at once by the Alberta government.

R. J. Boutilier, secretary of the Alberta Farmers' Union, made the statement at a CCF meeting in the IOOP Hall on 100 Street Tuesday night as he pointed to the exasperation of the Saskatchewan government which had bottled that step.

Mr. Boutilier recalled federal legislation had been passed which made it necessary for the province to enact further laws to permit the handling of coarse and feed grain by the government board.

At the close of the 1946 session of the Alberta house, a resolution had been passed calling for an investigation of coarse grain marketing and "if found necessary" a special session of the legislature be called to pass whatever legislation was required.

Mr. Boutilier said he was speaking as an individual and not as a representative of the UFA when he pointed out a government which ignored the desires of the largest voting group in the province was not good government.

Of 50 resolutions presented to the government last session, he said only three had found their way to the statute books.

Jack Hanson, official of the United Packing House Workers of America assailed the Alberta government, since they were required to be required to precede strike action.

800 Pupils Attend School Festival

Eight hundred pupils of the western area attended the Edmonton Public school festival in Westgate auditorium Tuesday.

Demonstrations of folk dancing, choral singing, chess and physical training were given by students.

Schools participating in Tuesday's event were Calder, Sherbrook, Westminster, Oliver, Glenora and Jasper.

Oliver school contributed a rhythm band of younger pupils while folk dancing exhibitions were staged by students of Westminster and Calder.

Grade four classes of Oliver and Sherbrook gave colorful numbers and Glenora displayed a physical training group.

This is the second time Ford appeared in court on the charge.

In December he was found guilty by Mr. Justice Hoyd McBride on the charge, and was sentenced to serve 18 months in jail.

Appeal taken by Neil D. Maclean, J.C., against conviction was successful. The conviction was quashed and a new trial ordered by the appellate division.

Growth of Northland Seen By Edmonton Signal Man

Rapid expansion from one signal station to a huge system of 20 stations in the North West Territories and the Yukon in a period of 25 years was outlined Tuesday by W. W. Lockhart, north commander of the entire system.

Lieut.-Col. W. Lockhart was a member of the first party sent into the north to establish two stations in 1923 and was one of four who set up the first office at Mayo, Yukon Territories.

The system commander easily remembers going into Mayo by boat with equipment and erecting a small cabin used as living quarters, signals station, and battery house.

At that time Lockhart held the rank of corporal. Quoted by the press as Major W. A. Steel.

After reaching Mayo and setting up equipment, Lockhart and three others sat around for four months before the first message came through from Dawson city.

Settlers in the district didn't show much faith in the wireless and the words "it won't work" were becoming very familiar to the ears of the four men, Lockhart said.

Only one to show faith in it, Lieut.-Col. Lockhart said, was "Ripley" Hornier, a prospector who filed the first commercial message at Mayo. The message was sent about a month later, the commander said.

The chemist used at the first station in the north was a 120 watt set which was lost used in Germany by the occupational forces.

The station at Dawson City was set up about the same time and the next one to be established were those at Edmonton and Fort Simpson.

After returning from the north, Lockhart attended Queen's University, taking a course in electrical engineering. He graduated in 1931 and was then posted to Camp Horne as adjutant.

He returned here in 1933 as officer commanding NWT wireless station at Calder and two years later attended army staff college in England.

Lockhart held several high posts

RESULTS BRING SECOND TRIAL

Good results merited a second trial.

One employee needed men to work for him last year, and got them through a warrant in The Bulletin.

This year he needed more so he sent in another ad.

"We got good results from our ad in your paper last year and no doubt this will be repeated," he wrote.

Which all goes to show that Bulletin ads, through success, inspire the confidence of ad writers. They can help you settle your business and personal problems too.

Second Trial Quashes Previous Conviction

Jack Charles Ford, Wainwright trucker, was found not guilty in Alberta superior court Tuesday by Mr. Justice Hugh John Macdonald on a manslaughter charge.

This is the second time Ford appeared in court on the charge.

In December he was found guilty by Mr. Justice Hoyd McBride on the charge, and was sentenced to serve 18 months in jail.

EDITOR HEADS AUTHORS' ASSN.

H. D. Carrigan, editor of Farmstead Magazine, has been elected president of Edmonton branch of the Canadian Authors' Association.

He succeeds Mrs. A. E. Cook, who held the position for five years.

Other officers elected were: A. L. Harris, first vice-president; Dr. W. G. Hardy, (national vice-president of the C.A.A.), second vice-president; Mrs. L. E. Liddle, secretary-treasurer and Sophie Anne McKenzie, publicity reporter.

New Plan For Vets' Wheat

Crop share payment plan for veterans in spring wheat area of Alberta was explained by DVA officials today.

Under the new system of payment which provides annual payments by making annual payments equaling one half of the crop yield in excess of six bushels per acre.

Thus, if a crop ran 12 bushels per acre, payment would be three bushels.

But if the crop exceeds 18 bushels per acre, the veteran has the right to keep his payments to a maximum of six bushels per acre.

When the share of crop is not sufficient to meet the terms of the contract, the unpaid amount is extended to the end.

Cosmo Club Observes St. George's Day

Motion pictures of victory celebrations in London, England, were shown members of the Cosmo Club as they observed St. George's Day in the Corona hotel Tuesday.

Mr. McDonald and H. P. Brown were in charge of the program which also included a songfest of English ballads.

Bill Harris, of Kamloops, B.C., was guest at the luncheon meeting.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Carrots and Cabbage Coming Regularly

By Bea Thrilly

Threat of a cabbage 'n' carrot famine seems to be going up in smoke — although vegetable hucksters are being more than cagey about definite answers.

Shipments of the leafy cabbage and the colorful carrot are coming into the local markets with encouraging regularity.

Onions came out of hiding briefly Monday morning but will reappear in full force Thursday — selling at about three pounds for 25c.

Happened upon a handy little item just today — a plastic cake and pastry cutter and server.

It boasted one saw-tooth cutting edge and a pronged arrangement jutting from the back who grip the top layer of a cake and keep it from sliding.

Sells for 35c — and comes in red, green, blue or clear plastic.

Tried that new, fast improved form of dry yeast that requires no refrigeration and had simply enough luck with my Parker house rolls.

It's easy to see... fast acting contents of one package can be used in place of one fresh yeast cake in any recipe when package directions are followed.

You pay the same number of pennies for the dry yeast cake — about three or four pennies to be exact.

Spring bonnet fever may play havoc with the budget — but not with the manufacture of your own flowered topper.

You can buy half-steps of straw or buckram for prices ranging from 6c to 52c.

Artificial flowers are plentiful in all varieties and colors.

A yard of selling a handful of flowers and a dash of artistic imagination and you have a Lily Dache model hat or a smart.

Many women are fast approaching — and we should be well-prepared for same.

Now mothers of teenage daughters snapping up colorful plastic raincoats — hooded and belted — for $1.

Ample protection from the rain and pretty as a picture besides.

NEEDLEWISE NOTES: Elastic sewing thread for shirring, cuffing or smoking — shirring at you see it by machine or hand.

Available only in white, black, red or blue and sells — 25c for a 3-yard spool.

Here's an inexpensive supper dish that always goes over in a big way with cheese lovers.

1 cup minced tomatoes

1 cup chopped cheese

1 cup butter

1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

Cook the finely chopped onion in the butter for ten minutes. Add tomato and seasoning and cook 20 minutes. Then stir in cheese and Worcestershire sauce and continue stirring until the cheese is smoothly melted.

Add well beaten eggs and stir until creamy. Serve on toast.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Disagreeing Agreeably Requires Great Tact

PROBABLY THE GREATEST accomplishment that any human being can possess is the ability to disagree with others without being disagreeable.

No other talent is more valuable or serves more useful purposes, for it is a first aid to success, a promoter of popularity, and the one sure recipe for making a marriage a little bit of heaven on earth.

Yet this precious secret is as rare as hen's teeth. Asia, America and Europe, and the millions of people who live in them, are as common as pie.

And this is strange, because, in reality, few people are contented enough to respect anyone to think as they do and to respect them.

Certainly it would be a dull world if it were only filled with repeaters and no one had an original idea or thought. There is no one whom we avoid more automatically than we do the forces who have a theme and upon which they harp continually.

Yet the minute one of these people catches his life and begins to dream upon some subject with which we do not see eye to eye with him, we smile him hip and thigh.

STINGY IN OPINIONS.

No matter how generous we are about other things, we are stingy with our opinions, and we can't abide having our families and friends and neighbors think differently from the way we do. If we belong to a different school of thought from Mr. Jones, we ought to let him enjoy his religion and his politics and his prophesying about how the election is going to be decided.

There is a compulsion upon us to correct him and tell him what sort of a duncel he is. And before we know it, a pleasant friendship has been smashed into smithereens.

Since war about women, only women are more careful about putting on the gloves before they tangle with their elders, and it is a woman who is to be elected president of a club or head of an altar guild, she keeps her opinion of Mrs. Jones and the way she is bringing up her kids to her breast.

That is why women have a larger circle of friends than men have.

The inability of people to disagree without making themselves disagreeable is in its most deplorable form in the case of the minister. It is impossible that a minister and wife should create the possibility of two souls with a single thought.

They are bound to differ on a

Mr. Geneva Carson, the very young and busy and enthusiastic 40-year-old woman I have been telling you about this week is a great believer in books, but she thinks a hobby should really mean something in human development and living.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Fear of Strangers Will Be Only Temporary

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

When the child is in the 9 to 12 months period of growth, there is a tendency to show fear of strangers and a strong dependency on the mother. The child cries when picked up, or screams when left alone with a stranger.

This is all very embarrassing to the parent and she is humiliated and apologetic for her unfriendly child.

The parent feels flattered, too, at being so important to the baby. If she is an immature person, herself, she plays on the baby's dependency and insists to everyone within hearing that she won't let anyone but her do one thing for him.

This is as flattery as is most infantile behavior. The parent needs to little to do it. If she must be with the child constantly, she is sensible, whenever possible, to make opportunities for others to do pleasant tasks for the baby, even though she may be in the room.

If the baby cries when she departs from the room, she should come back shortly but continue her duties without making an attempt to comfort the baby. She has done nothing wrong. The baby has been no danner.

The "I am darling, don't cry now, Mother is here," exaggerates the child's need for the parent and does nothing to end the behavior.

When she must leave the baby in the care of a stranger she will do so to bring her into the home long enough for the baby to become acquainted with her.

Then, when the mother departs, there should be no agonized screaming for her. The one character who will have become familiar and self-asserted, envelope with your certificate. It is always cruel to allow a child to wake up from a nap, care of The Edmonton Bulletin.

Thank-You Notes For Gifts

You're simply carried away by all your delightful birthday gifts!

How thrilling for so many people to have remembered YOU on your special day.

Now don't go and ruin the fine opinion they must have of you by forgetting to write thank-you notes.

You can telephone your thanks, be sure, but the written note is the most courteous way to express appreciation.

And you must be prompt! For a short note, you may use double cards or note paper, pen and ink please. NOT the typewriter.

Always be sure to mention the item received, such as "Thank you, Gabe Bob, for the lovely mittens I wore them to the basketball game Friday night and to my own, my hands stayed nice and warm."

Or, "Dear Rita: How did you know that lavender is my favorite color? I wanted to take a bath in it when I was in the hospital, but I'm controlling myself."

Make your thank-yous brief and personal. And above all, make them at once!

Send 50 cents (coin) for "How to Write Letters for Every Occasion."

Cancer Hospital Built In Locked Speakeasy

Faith Venture of Detroit Nun Results In $500,000 Cancer Institution

DETROIT, April 21.—(AP)—With only faith and determination to go on, Sister Lorella Mary Gibson founded a cancer hospital in a padlocked speakeasy in 1931. Today Detroit's determined cancer fighter has built the hospital, Mercy Hall, into a $500,000 institution. That's only the beginning, she says.

Now she's helping pioneer a program to help average families cope with cancer. In the face of a disease that kills more than 18,000 yearly in the United States, cost-tremendous sums for treatment and has no sure cure, the job is overwhelming.

"Ten per cent of those who come to the walk out and go home," says the Sister of Charity. "We allow no defeatism. Every case is treated as if it had never been diagnosed before."

Mercy Hall is a homey place, painted in cheerful colors, with large glass porches. Organ music is piped in the rooms. Patients are accepted regardless of race, creed or color. With its 60 beds, it is a far cry from the squalid treatment centers Sister Gibson set up in the padlocked speakeasy which she rented 17 years ago.

This is headquarters now for the administration of the National Cancer Foundation's new program in Illinois, Michigan, Indiana, and Ohio. It's the first hospital to enter into the program.

Sister Gibson says the fact that 80 per cent of cancer cases die in poverty to prove that help is needed for middle-class families stricken with the disease. The program works this way:

Worship advanced cancer patients in the four-state area are admitted to Mercy Hall. They pay what they can. The foundation fronts the rest of the bill while the patient is in the patients' home states. It's all simple.

After wondering how Sister Gibson can handle it, such as only a faded hospital, you're along on the ground. She's already working on plans to build a new $400,000 hospital.

No pain, no butters, scientific design, safe, comfortable, approved by doctors and nurses.
